WELCOME FROM OUR VICE-CHANCELLOR

Welcome to your graduation! This week we celebrate your achievements and those of the graduating class of 2022. Congratulations to you all for a successful and hopefully rewarding time at Buckinghamshire New University (BNU).

Graduation is the highlight of our year and we are delighted to bring staff, students, friends and families together once again to share this joyous occasion. We are immensely proud of your achievements and how you overcame various challenges, including the impact of the pandemic.

We are very proud that you are graduating at a time when we are experiencing one of the most successful periods of our history. Your views were integral to BNU both finishing 5th out of all UK universities for student satisfaction in the National Student Survey and climbing to a record high of 11th in UK in the 2022 Whatuni rankings. This is testament to how hard we work to meet our students' expectations.

In the United Kingdom, we know that higher education brings real and life-long benefits and the qualification you obtain today is greatly prized throughout the world. You have conquered intellectual and practical challenges, and made valuable connections, and we hope too that you have been able to take advantage of the wider programme of experiences that life at BNU has to offer.

Today marks the beginning of the next phase of your life. On the strength of your qualifications, you may be planning the first step in your chosen career, a career move or progression, or perhaps a significant change of direction. We take great pride in how studying at BNU creates new opportunities and helps our students and graduates to realise their ambitions.

As you celebrate your success, spare a moment for all those who have helped you along the way. Your friends, family and loved ones, employers, supporters, and not least the talented and dedicated staff of the University.

As a graduate, you are now a member of the Buckinghamshire New University alumni community, and we hope you will remain actively involved. This week we will be bestowing a special honour on one of the University's alumni as we invest Jay Blades MBE as our inaugural Chancellor on Friday 9th September.

Jay is a shining example of what our graduates go on to achieve, and our commitment to our valued alumni network. Since graduating with a degree in criminology with philosophy from BNU in 2004, where his dyslexia was both identified and supported by the University, Jay has become an award-winning broadcaster, modern furniture restorer and social entrepreneur, before receiving an MBE for his services to craft. I am very proud to welcome Jay back to join the rest of our BNU family this week.

So, as you take the next steps in your life, please tell us about your continuing success, come back to meet the next generation of students, share your story, provide support and inspiration, or come back to study with us at a higher level. Whatever your future involvement with the University, you will always receive a very warm welcome and forever be part of our very special BNU family.

Today is your day, so enjoy all that you have achieved and celebrate your success. Well done!

Professor Nick Braisby, Vice-Chancellor

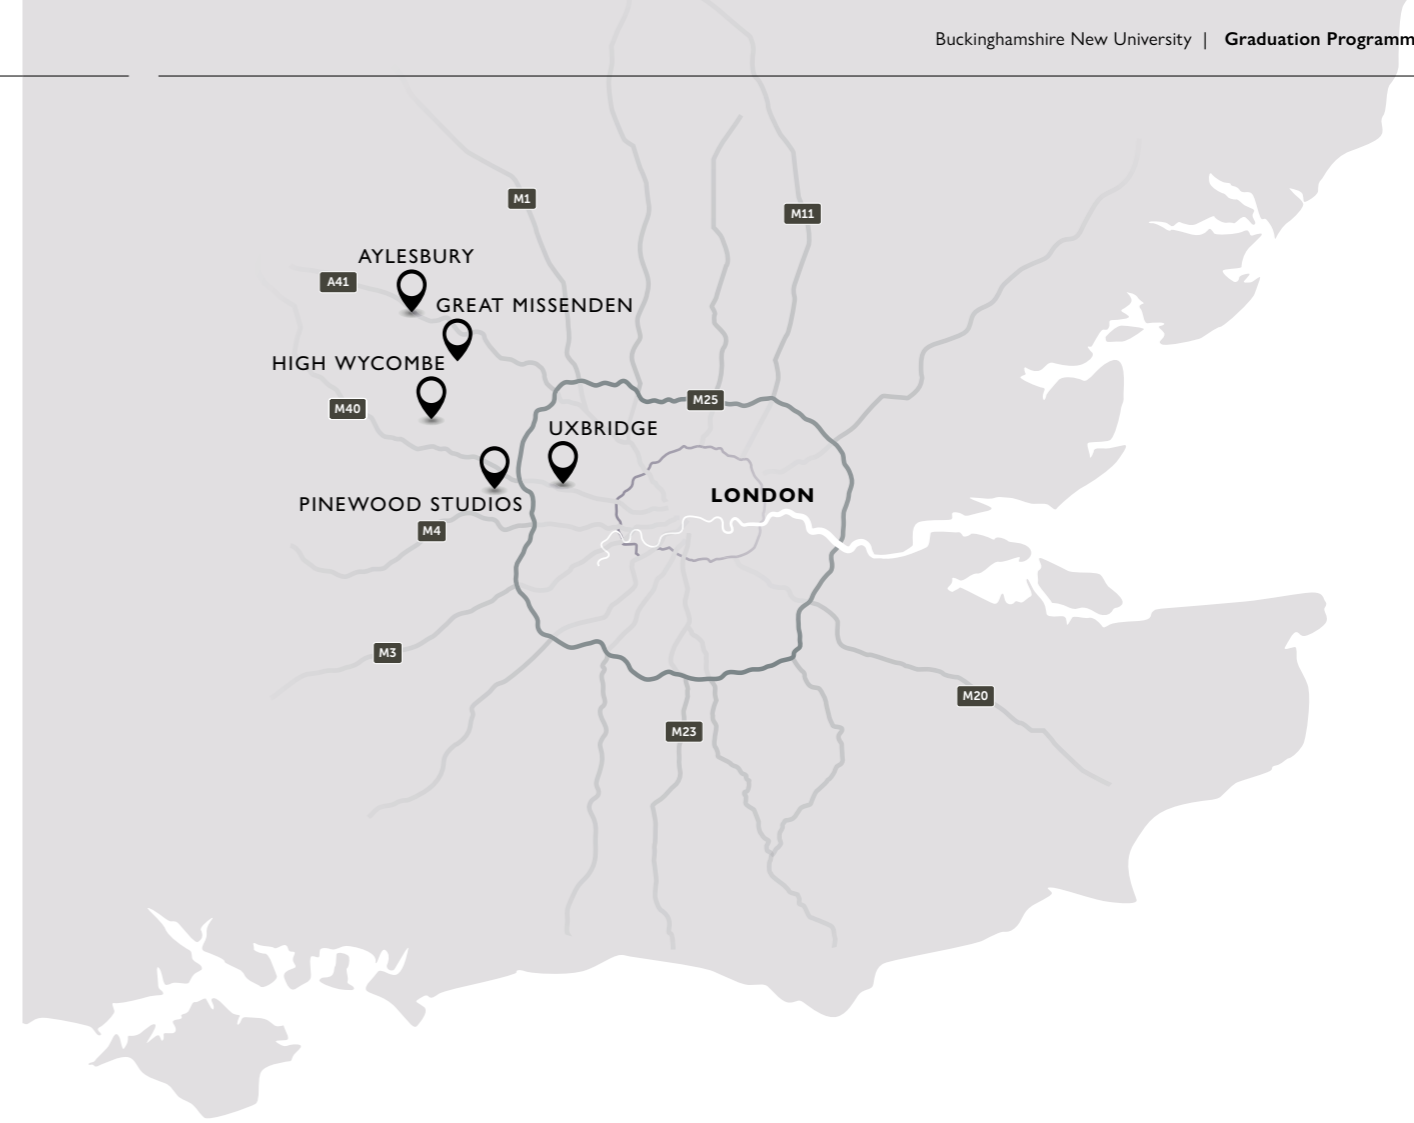

PROUD TO BE BNU

Our University has been transforming lives for more than 130 years, from developing our students' full potential to making a positive impact on the environment and our communities.

We support the local economy through the activity of our students, staff and alumni, with our beneficial impact estimated to be in the region of £0.95bn annually. BNU students work in and support many key local industries, including the vitally important health and social care sector, and are active contributors to local and regional charities and voluntary groups.

We provide an education that works for all regardless of background or circumstance, and equips our students with skills for life, helping them rise to the global challenges of the 21st century. While at BNU, we aim to give students the best possible experience. This year's student responses in the National Student Survey led to us being ranked as top five among all UK universities for student satisfaction, and for the experience of our postgraduate research students we were ranked number one in the UK.

Our students are the heartbeat of our thriving campuses and we do everything we can to help them. In the past year, their personal efforts led to multiple nominations for our healthcare students at the Student Nursing Times Awards; through our support schemes for talented athletes we supported 34 student-athletes, helping them thrive in their academic studies whilst competing at domestic and global levels; and our annual Art & Design Show showcased to the public and to employers the high calibre of work our talented students produce.

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS 2020-21

STUDENT SATISFACTION

Top 5 UK university for student satisfaction.

No. 1 UK university for postgraduate research student experience.

Rose 15 places to rank 77th place in the Guardian University Guide 2022, third consecutive improvement in overall position

10th highest in UK for our spend on services and facilities, up 27 places

11th place in Whatuni's 2022 University of the Year

Our best performance since the student comparison site launched.

Fulfilling our commitment to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), BNU has continued its efforts to end poverty in all its forms. We are supporting local charitable organisations to tackle food poverty in High Wycombe, recently highlighted as the area with the highest levels of food insecurity in the UK. We support many other charities, including Read Easy Chilterns, which aims to eradicate education poverty by helping local adults learn to read.

The University works with local schools and colleges to help improve attainment, supporting pupils to realise their potential. More than a quarter (28%) of the young people we worked with last year would be first-generation University students; about one-in-three (32%) were members of the Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic communities; and 5% identified as disabled. Over half (55%) students lived in areas with low participation to university and a third lived in high deprivation areas. In addition, we welcomed students from the Probation Service, Young Carers, 45 service children and 77 care-experienced students. Almost a quarter (23%) were on free school meals.

Building on the University's pioneering work in creating a nationally important pledge scheme, to improve access to and success in higher education for members of the Gypsy, Traveller, Roma, Showmen and Boater communities, we are proud to have designated special bursaries in support of these goals. We have also created bursaries to support care-experienced students, and refugees and asylum seekers, enabling them to benefit from tailored financial, accommodation and pastoral support.

While proud of how far we've come, we are always striving for more and you can all help us on our journey. As graduates or guests, you can be a part of our future too. So stay in touch, study with us, or sign up to our newsletter on our website for details of upcoming events. We hope to see you again soon!

JAY BLADES MBE INAUGURAL CHANCELLOR OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE NEW UNIVERSITY

In receiving Jay Blades MBE as our inaugural Chancellor, Buckinghamshire New University (BNU) marks a bright, new beginning with Jay as our most prominent champion.

As perhaps our most inspiring and accomplished former alumnus, Jay is a shining example of the unwavering empowerment this University strives to engender in our community of students.

As Chancellor, through his example and support, Jay will help BNU in our mission to transform lives through the power of education and our drive to widen participation in higher education and promote equal opportunities for all.

Jay Blades MBE - Inaugural Chancellor of Buckinghamshire New University

Jay arrived at the University in 2000, a mature student whose promise and insatiable appetite for knowledge was limited only by his challenges with reading. He was diagnosed with dyslexia at BNU and then received the additional support he required to flourish in his undergraduate degree. He has since gone on to achieve astonishing success as a public figure, community champion and role model.

His remarkable ascendance, from deprivation and very little schooling to award-winning broadcaster and social entrepreneur, is matched only by his steadfast commitment to enriching this University's community through civic engagement and innovative heritage programmes. Indeed, Jay's endorsement of a local campaign to help disadvantaged adults learn to read, alongside his ambition to work with BNU to revive the University's furniture design, speak to a lasting social good that will build a lasting and meaningful legacy to his role as Chancellor.

Jay's life is his body of work: a complex and at times difficult journey through which he has wrought unique beauty. By sheer will and determination he has built a career using the power of his voice, describing the world as he sees it with an unvarnished candour and razor-like wit.

Before a flourishing career in television, Jay established the Out of the Dark charity with his then partner Jade, here in High Wycombe, to help underprivileged youngsters enhance their life and career prospects. Jay has also supported The Black Fund which invests in equality.

Despite his difficulty with dyslexia, Jay has written two books; one a deeply powerful memoir which charts his incredible journey and openly highlights the challenges he has faced on the path to success.

In 2021 our BNU community was enormously proud to see Jay receive an MBE for his services to craft.

And, in his capacity as Chancellor of Buckinghamshire New University, Jay will use this platform to inspire others with his indomitable spirit, and to instil in our student body the primacy of a good education and to be ambitious for their futures.

Jay's example is one of this University's great legacies and for those who will graduate today, or begin studying at BNU nurturing their own unique and bold ambitions, it will surely serve as a marvellous beacon whose brilliance will light their way long after his ceremonial duties are fulfilled.

Buckinghamshire New University is deeply honoured and proud to receive Jay Blades MBE as our first Chancellor, and to bestow on him an Honorary Doctorate in recognition of his community work supporting vulnerable and disadvantaged groups and his significant contribution to furniture-making and craft.

We look forward keenly to our bright future together.

Study with BNU

fee reduction on postgraduate degrees

Did you know that having a postgraduate qualification can increase your earning potential by £5,400 per year?*

During the last UK economic crash in 2008, employment among those with postgraduate qualifications was slower to fall and faster to recover than for those with only a first degree.

As a 2022 BNU graduate registering for a postgraduate course at BNU in September 2022, February or September 2023, the University will pay up to 50% of your fees.

For full details

Visit bucks.ac.uk/pgoffer

or call 0330 123 2023.

* Statistics from the Department of Education (2021)

 Postgraduate Education in the UK (HEPI 2020)

 Students applying for a postgraduate course part-taught or fully-taught at our BNU base at Pinewood Studios may be eligible for a 10% fee waiver per year.
